

In high-stakes domains the model never closes a case. It decides what a person sees first.

